PASTOR BEGINS TALKS ON HOLY LAND TOUR

Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., Pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Gives Interesting Account of Trip to Holy Lands—Minister to Lecture Each Sunday Evening and Articles to Appear Regularly in Sentinel.

(Note by Editor: This is the first of a series of lectures by Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Grenada, on a tour of the Holy Lands made by him during 1924. The lecture that follows was delivered by him last Sunday evening in the auditorium of his church. The next will be given next Sunday evening and these lectures are to continue for probably ten weeks. Each will appear in The Sentinel in the issue following its delivery. They will be illustrated each week by pictures selected from those taken by Mr. McLeod's party during the tour. The Sentinel would suggest that its readers preserve these articles as they will always furnish interesting and instructive reading.)

The Bible Lands—The Fifth Gospel No. 1—Up The Phoenician Coast (By Robert L. McLeod, Jr.)

As this lecture is my first, let me give you my entire itinerary. We sailed from New York making our first stop eight days later at the Madeira Islands, thence to Spain, Gibraltar, Africa, Greece, and Turkey. We steamed by Constantinople up the Bosphorus to the Black Sea, returning to Constantinople where we spent a few days. From Constantinople we sailed southward, then eastward for Palestine and Syria. After visiting Syria, Palestine, and Egypt, we sailed to Italy, traveling overland through Switzerland, France and over to the British Isles, from there homeward.

REV. ROBERT L. McLEOD, JR., Pastor First Presbyterian Church who is delivering series of lectures on tour of Holy Lands. The first was given last Sunday evening and they are to be continued every Sunday evening until completed.

Although to me, Syria, Palestine, and Egypt were the most interesting, at the same time there is much to interest any traveler through all these other countries. But my series of lectures will cover only the three countries mentioned.

Early one morning as I was sleeping peacefully in my stateroom on the boat, I was awakened by a rumbling noise. It took me only a moment to understand that we were dropping anchor for the Lands where the Saviour's feet had trod. I arose hurriedly, dressed and walked out on deck. Looking out to the East I could see a promontory jutting out into the sea surrounded by mist with a background of a gloriously colored sunrise. I turned to a steward on deck and asked him what that was, and he informed me that that great shoulder was Old Mt. Carmel. Therefore my first glimpse of the Holy Land was a scene which took me back to my Bible, remembering Elijah and the prophets of Baal, and the controversy which took place there proving Jehovah God superior to all other Gods. I then left the deck of the boat and headed the bugle call to breakfast. During breakfast I reviewed my notes on the Holy Lands. And now before we land, let us see the size of these countries.

Palestine is almost exactly the size of the state of Maryland. This means that the historic spots of the most historic land in all the world are not far apart, and some of them very close together. The extreme length of the land from Dan to Beersheba is only about 150 miles. The entire country has a population of only about 770,000 inhabitants. About 600,000 of this number are adherents to the Mohammedan Religion. This country, as you will see if you follow me for the next few weeks, is a world in miniature. No other land

MR. AND MRS. LAWRENCE IN AUTOMOBILE COLLISION

While returning last Friday afternoon from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. S. Grantham at Waynesboro Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lawrence were injured in a head-on collision between their car and another car. The accident occurred about four miles north of Mt. Olive and was caused by loose gravel. Fortunately both cars were going at a slow rate of speed or more serious consequences might have resulted. Mrs. Lawrence sustained several slight cuts and Mr. Lawrence's chin was split open but neither was seriously injured. The four occupants of the other car were uninjured.

Mr. Lawrence was suffering from a severe cold at the time of the collision and the shock to his system aggravated his illness, necessitating his continued confinement to his bed since the accident. He is suffering from an influenza condition and his physician does not permit him to receive callers. It is hoped that in a very short time he will be up and about again, restored to his wonted health.

ROTARY HEARS MINISTER TELL OF HIS VOCATION

Rotarian Robert L. McLeod, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave a vocational talk on the ministry at the meeting of the Grenada Rotary Club Tuesday, Nov. 6. It was one of the finest talks heard by the Rotarians in a long time. The speaker discussed fully the obligations of a minister to his church and to the community and he then told best how these obligations could be met. He also pointed out what the average church member expected of his pastor and he told how the member could best aid in helping the minister come up to his expectations. He said that no minister who was not in love with his work could properly serve the Christian people of a community no more than could a business or professional man serve his clientele who was not devoted to his occupation. What the speaker had to say was presented in a forceful and convincing manner and served as an inspiration to the many who heard him.

Only two were absent from the meeting and they are expected to make their attendance with the Water Valley Rotary club today.

Mr. Harry Trevelan, of Grenada, was a guest at the luncheon.

PLEAD GUILTY TO THEFT OF COTTON

Green Carpenter, Jr., 16 years old, residing in Beat 4, and Walter Jackson, 24, living south of Grenada, entered pleas of guilty when arraigned before E. Squire W. P. Hamsley last Thursday on the charge of stealing 271 pounds of seed cotton from Jim Wright, negro. The cotton was taken from the negro's cotton house Monday night, Oct. 29, and the pair were arrested by Sheriff P. S. Nason and Constable R. M. Wood Tuesday afternoon after they confessed. The two officers followed the tracks from Wright's cotton house to Jackson's cotton house where they found the cotton alleged to have been stolen from the negro. Jackson offered in extenuation of taking the cotton that the negro's cattle had done that much damage to his crops and that he felt that was the only way for him to recover. He was fined $25.00 and sentenced to thirty days in jail, all of his jail sentence except five days being held up on account of his physical condition. Carpenter was given the same sentence except that all of his jail sentence was suspended on account of his youth.

The sheriff and constable have been doing some effective work in locating and apprehending those who have been raiding other people's cotton houses.

MISS McCASLIN IN PLAY

Gainesville, Ga.—Miss Mary McCaslin of Grenada appeared in "A Dooryard", an original three-act tragedy by Maude Fiske La Fleur, Brenau College dramatic teacher, which was presented here Monday evening.

Beginning the first act on the eve of the Civil War, in 1851, the play covers more than half a century, the second act taking place in 1878, and the third in 1918. Throughout the play there is a conflict between the harshness of Puritanic New England and the dreams of a girl. The author is a native of New England.

Miss McCaslin played a difficult role with skill and ease. She is a member of Zeta Phi Eta fraternity, national honorary society in dramatics, and is a junior faculty member in the Brenau School of Speech and Dramatic Art.

WANTS COLLECTIONS

The Old Men's Home of Jackson is asking that every Sunday School of every denomination give its third Sunday's collection of Nov. 1928 to the institution, this being a special appeal. All trains will bring things that are given to the home for Thanksgiving as they do for the Old Ladies' Home and the Orphanage.

PAN-AM AGENT HAS SPENT 4955 HOURS IN THE AIR

When it comes to flying, Mac Johnson, agent for the Pan American Petroleum Corporation at Augusta, Georgia, has a few records that make even the hardiest of the flying fraternity sit up and take notice.

Johnson started flying in November, 1917, enlisting in the army at Berkeley, California. Since that time he has collected 4,955 flying hours to his credit—and is still going strong. For his Pan-Am plane is seen almost daily in the air around Augusta, where he finds it very useful in his work of distributing Pan-Am gasoline and motor oil.

Among Johnson's records to date are five cross-country flights from coast to coast; a world's record for landing and taking off in one day when he did the job 380 times at Dillingham Field, Asheville, N. C.; the second plane to fly below the rim of the Grand Canyon; service in the air mail; has flown approximately 896,490 miles, carrying over 14,000 passengers.

Based on a consumption of 16 gallons per hour, Johnson has used 49,550 gallons of gasoline in his plane, or approximately five tank cars.

If you ask Johnson what his biggest thrill is about flying he will probably tell you it comes from his record of having gone through all his experiences without a single accident to plane or person. And that's a real record.

Republicans Win Four States In "Solid South"; Grenada County Votes Democratic Nearly 30 to 1.

Democratic Ticket Carries Only Six States of "Solid South" and Massachusetts and Rhode Island—Smith's Religion and Prohibition Stand and Prosperity of Nation Are Given as Causes of Tremendous Vote Given G. O. P.—Hoover Gets Only 39 Votes in Grenada County.

It is now President-elect Herbert Hoover and Vice-president-elect Charles Curtis. The Republican ticket made an almost clean sweep of the nation leaving only 8 of the 48 states for Al Smith and the Democratic party. The solid south was broken, Hoover carrying Texas, Virginia, North Carolina and Florida and the states of Kentucky and Tennessee went into the Republican bandwagon. Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, of the "solid south", remained solidly Democratic and Smith carried Rhode Island and Massachusetts, states normally Republican and that voted for Coolidge in 1924. Smith received a greater popular vote than did Woodrow Wilson, in either 1912 or 1916, and greater than Cox's popular vote in 1920 and Davis' in 1924, yet he will get less votes in the electoral college than the Democratic candidate in any of these campaigns.

Notwithstanding the great effort that was made to amass a big Republican vote in Mississippi by the expenditure of huge sums of money through advertising and by speakers who stumped the state for the Hoover ticket, the Magnolia state remained true to party traditions and gave Smith a tremendous vote. Grenada County, with 1157 to 39, or nearly 30 to 1, gave the Democratic ticket perhaps the greatest percentage of the total vote of any section of the country.

Many explanations have been offered since Tuesday night as to the causes of the overwhelming defeat of Smith. Some say the prohibition issue caused his downfall; others assert that the fact of his being a Catholic encompassed his defeat; while others claim that the country has been fairly prosperous during the Republican administration and that this created in the minds of the electorate a fear of a change of policies.

Prohibition, no doubt, cost Smith thousands of votes, especially in the South. In Mississippi and in Grenada county, hundreds were known to stay away from the polls because of Smith's declaration on the whiskey question and they did not want to vote Republican. Although they know that whiskey is being sold and drunk all over the country, they did not think that any modification in the eighteenth amendment would improve conditions.

None will dispute that Smith's church affiliations cost him thousands of votes. This country was first settled by colonists fleeing from religious persecutions in the Old World and freedom of religious worship is supposed to have been handed down from the earliest days of the republic. Too, the United States constitution says that religious belief shall not act as a bar to any man holding public office in this country. Yet anti-Catholic organizations and Catholic haters flooded the country with propaganda against Al Smith.

The Republican party by many is given the credit for the prosperity of the country today. In this section business has been dull and business men say it is the same all over the country but, nevertheless, the nation is said to be in a prosperous condition. The daily press has broadcast for years that "prosperity is here" and the masses believed what they read and voted for Hoover.

Anyway, it's all over but the shouting and Herbert Hoover, the Quaker farm boy, is to be next president of the United States of America; the greatest official honor that can be bestowed upon any man.

TO VOTE ON COUNTY AGENTS

An election is to be held in Grenada county on Saturday, Nov. 24, to determine whether or not the county demonstration agents and the county home economics agent are to be retained after their present tenure of office expires on Dec. 1.

Four years ago the people of the county voted by a big majority to retain the agents and they have been continued until his time. There has been considerable agitation in recent months to abolish the offices but, no definite step has been taken until the ordering of the special election, above mentioned, by the board of supervisors at its November meeting. The supervisors feel that they should not take it upon themselves to discontinue the agents without referring the question again to the voters who decreed by their ballots that they wanted the work continued.

BOARD FIXES TAX LEVY

The board of supervisors of Grenada county has just completed the levy of taxes for the fiscal year 1928-29 in the county, the levies for the various taxing districts being as follows:

City of Grenada, 35 mills; Beat 1, 36½ mills; Beat 2, 31 mills; Beat 3, 39½ mills; Beat 4, 36½ mills; Beat 5, 36 mills; Graysport separate road district, 48 mills; Holcomb consolidated school district, 53 mills; Tie Plant special school, 43½ mills; Gore Springs consolidated school, 53½ mills; Wolfe-Hardy special school, 41½ mills; Fairground special school, 47½ mills; Calvary consolidated school, 45½ mills; Elliott special school, 51½ mills.

The levy for the general fund was increased one mill over last year and the raise in the state ad valorem levy from six to eight mills places the levy over the entire county three mills higher than the past year. In several instances, levies were increased slightly. In one district, a reduction of one mill for road maintenance was made, in Beat 3.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO MEET

The Civic League will meet Tuesday afternoon, 3:30, at ladies' rest rooms. A large attendance is urged. Those interested in a better, cleaner and more beautiful Grenada should come and lend their ideas and suggestions to this faithful organization. We need them, we want them. Civic pride should be expressed for we realize the citizens of our city have a great deal more of it than is generally known.

This is being demonstrated at present by the residents on College Boulevard. The entire town is commending them for the pride and financial interest they have shown on their street. Would that residents of other streets might catch their spirit.

Mrs. H. J. Ray, Sec.

YOUTH KILLED MONDAY ON ROAD NEAR HOLCOMB

Joe Eddie Riley, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Riley, residing six miles east of Elliott, was instantly killed Monday, Nov. 5, about 8 p. m. on the Grenada-Charleston highway, two miles east of Holcomb. Riley was driving a lumber truck when something, supposedly the radius rod, went wrong with the machine, causing him to lose control and plunge off the embankment. A Mr. Hamberlin, who was with him, sustained three fractured ribs, and a Mr. Larrimore escaped without injury. A negro woman, cook for the mill camp at Leflore where the three men were employed, was thought to be critically injured but she was able to leave the hospital Thursday morning.

The deceased's father operates a sawmill at Leflore and the youth had been hauling lumber and doing other jobs about the mill. At the time of the accident he was en route to Grenada for supplies.

He was a young man who was well liked by those who knew him. He was industrious and energetic and gave diligent attention to all his duties.

Burial was had Wednesday at Bethel burying ground in Carroll county, 12 miles south of Grenada, the services being conducted by Revs. G. T. Sledge and J. S. Maxey.

The Sentinel tenders its deepest sympathy to the grieving parents and other loved ones.

The fifty-ninth annual session of the North Mississippi Conference of the Southern Methodist Church came to a close at Pontotoc Monday afternoon. The yearly assignment of ministers was read at the adjournment.

Over 200 people attended the assembly, which convened last Wednesday.

Reports to the conference during its sessions showed marked progress during the past 10 months. Many things were done but whether the conference would join with the Mississippi Conference and the Methodist of Oxford in building a church at the university city was left until the 1929 session.

The assembly was honored with the presence of two of the church's leading bishops, Bishop Warren A. Candler of Atlanta, Ga., who presided, and Bishop U. W. V. Darlington of Wheeling, W. Va. Bishop Candler said the closing prayer Monday. Bishop Darlington left for his home Sunday. Bishop Candler went to Philadelphia, where he opened the Mississippi Conference assembly Wednesday.

The assignments for the Grenada district are as follows: Presiding elder, E. H. Cunningham; Abbeville, E. L. Jernigan; Ashland, R. B. Pearson; Coffeeville, W. L. Robinson; Duck Hill, J. S. Maxey; Durant, R. G. Moore; Ebenezer, J. A. Patterson; Grenada, J. H. Holder; Holcomb, W. J. Wood; Holly Springs, J. M. Bradley; Kilmichael, J. R. Murff; Lamar, G. R. Williams; Lexington, J. E. Stephens; Oxford, S. H. Caffey; Jeff Cunningham junior preacher; Paris, E. F. Tucker; Pickens and Goodman, M. E. Scott; Poplar Creek, N. E. Thaxton; Sallis, A. W. Bailey; Tie Plant, G. T. Hemphill; president Grenada College, J. R. Countiss, student Columbia University, J. S. Duncan; Sunday school executive secretary, E. G. Mohler; conference secretary education, J. H. Holder; missionary secretary, R. G. Moore.

The community as a whole is delighted that Revs. J. H. Holder and E. G. Mohler were returned to Grenada and that Dr. J. R. Countiss is again to head Grenada College. It is regretted that Rev. E. S. Lewis, who is concluding his four years as presiding elder of the Grenada district, under the rules of the conference, is to be transferred. Mr. Lewis goes to Corinth as pastor of the First Church and the prayers and best wishes of Grenada will follow him and his estimable wife to their new home.

Rev. E. H. Cunningham, one of the leading ministers of the conference, succeeds Mr. Lewis as presiding elder. He and his family will be accorded a genuine welcome to Grenada.

SCHOOL PUPILS TO GIVE SPECTACULAR OPERETTA

Typical Dutch costumes with wooden shoes are to be used by the characters and these are to be secured at considerable expense from one of the theatrical costume houses in Memphis. A delightful evening of entertainment is promised all who attend.

The operetta is being directed by Miss Floye Wood, of the school faculty, and the cast of characters, composed of high school and grammar school pupils, is as follows: Mynheer Hertogenbosch, Rich Holland Farmer; J. ## HOOVER'S ELECTION

Even the most ardent partisan of the Republican party and its presidential candidate, Herbert Hoover, could not have hoped or dreamed of such a victory as he achieved at the polls of the nation Tuesday. He won by a landslide greater than that which re-elected Coolidge over John W. Davis in 1924. Davis did carry the so-called "solid South", an accomplishment that cannot be credited to Smith.

Optimistic Democrats expressed themselves as believing Smith would win but deep down in their hearts they realized that he had an uphill fight. Opposed by the candidate of a party that has seldom tasted defeat, by the Ku Klux Klan and its vile publication, by the Anti-Saloon League and its horde of office-holders living off of public charity, by countless thousands of Catholic-haters and by a swarm of political parsons who, forsaking their ministerial duties that God had called (?) them to perform, ran up and down the country belching forth vituperation and abuse upon his head, Al Smith was weighed down by obstacles no human being could surmount. We do not believe that Herbert Hoover was responsible for any of these assaults on Al Smith and we said so from time to time in The Sentinel. Smith made a noble fight, an honorable and a courageous fight, and he went down in defeat smiling and unashamed. It was good for the country to get to know such a man as Al Smith. He is one of the nation's greatest citizens today, even though he is beaten.

Herbert Hoover will make the nation a great executive. He is a self-made man and again demonstrates that America is the land of opportunity where a man's achievements depend upon himself alone. Herbert Hoover has been eminently successful in his ventures during his lifetime. He is recognized as one of the country's greatest engineers. He is an organizer whose equal can hardly be found. He is a student of men and of affairs and has a knowledge of the country's needs that should stand him well in hand during his administration. He has rendered noble service to his country—as food administrator and as head of the Belgian Relief Commission during the World War, as head of the Department of Commerce during the Harding-Coolidge administration and as director of relief measures during the 1927 Mississippi flood—works that have marked him as one of the nation's big men.

The old ship of State will move proudly on during the next four years under the leadership of Herbert Hoover and we have no fears for the country's welfare under his guidance. In our issue of June 22, we had this to say under the caption, "Herbert Hoover—The Republican Nominee":

Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee for President, embodies much that is highest and best in the life of the United States. First of all it will be universally conceded that he is a clean, honest and upright man and that he is worthy of every confidence.

His telegram to the Kansas City convention, in response to one notifying him of his nomination, not only deals with matters of state, but there is that clarion call for a realization of the fact that with problems of state must go a spiritual understanding and purity in life if what is thought to be settled is to stay settled.

He is another one of those men born in poverty and left fatherless at a tender age who has made his way to the top. His father was a blacksmith. He was sent to Oregon from Iowa to make his home with an uncle when only ten years of age. There he did all sorts of menial labor. He worked but, in the quiet hours of his daily labors, there was born in him a yearning to make his way in the world, and he has. His beginning and what he has done is but another one of the many examples in the life of America that should be an inspiration to every boy.

Woodrow Wilson discovered Hoover. He underwrote him, and therefore the Democratic party is estopped from assailing him except insofar as it may differ with him on matters of vital public policy. He is a Quaker in religion, and if he should be elected, he will be the first Quaker to ever occupy the White House. Al Smith, it seems certain, is to be his Democratic opponent. If he is, and if he should be elected, he will be the first Catholic to ever occupy the White House.

As the campaign progresses, it may be expected that the life and the personal character of the candidates will be lost sight of in the zeal of party discussions and in the clamor of the fellow who never does his own thinking.

His running mate, Chas. Curtis, of Kansas, comes of an Indian tribe, the Kaws. Curtis too, is a clean man, but is more of a politician than Hoover. If Curtis should be elected Vice President, he will be the first man of much Indian blood to sit in the place second only to the presidency, the highest office in the world.

Unless the Democrats commit political suicide, Al Smith will be their nominee next week at Houston. He, too, comes of an humble home. He did not get the opportunity of a college education that came to Hoover, nevertheless he has shown himself to be a great thinker and a student and lover of men.

With Herbert and Al, regardless of the campaign hurrahs and the political bonfires, the sober-minded, thinking people of the land may feel assured that the destinies of the country will be safe in the hands of either of them. There will be no lowering of the flag or deviation from the paths already marked by the great leaders who have gone on before by either Al or Herbert.

The "solid South" appears to be no longer solid. When a Republican can carry such states as Texas, Virginia, North Carolina and Florida, it takes a vivid imagination to dwell on the "solidity" of these commonwealths.

If the state Democratic committee passes the word down the line to bar all "Hooverites" and "anti-Smithites" from future Democratic primaries there won't be so very many to be punished in old Grenada County.

One good lady believes that the bootleggers and Methodist and Baptist preachers beat Al Smith. That's a combination for you!

WE'RE PROUD OF GRENADA COUNTY.

With all the humbug and hubbub that had been raised in Mississippi and Grenada County against the Democratic presidential candidate, Grenada Countians went to the polls Tuesday and piled up an overwhelming majority for the Democratic party, the party of our fathers and our fathers' fathers. By a vote of nearly 30 to 1, Grenada County indicated that it had no patience with bigotry, intolerance, slander, abuse and vituperation and that it still had faith in the Democratic principles that have been handed down to us.

We're proud of Grenada County! We're glad to be one of its citizens! We're unashamed that we were among those who voted for one of the nation's greatest leaders, Alfred E. Smith, and now one of its gamest losers. We congratulate the people of Grenada County for the magnificent fight they waged in behalf of Democracy. Splendid work was done by staunch and steadfast Democrats, both men and women, in Grenada County and they succeeded in giving Democracy a majority which we doubt was equalled anywhere in the nation.

Again we say we're proud of Grenada County, a county that can hold up its head and look the world squarely in the eye and say yes, "we voted for the faith of our fathers."

HOUSE AND SENATE STILL CAN'T AGREE

The extraordinary session of the legislature is rounding out its sixth week with adjournment still not in sight. At a cost to the taxpayers of Mississippi of approximately $2800 a day, the house and senate are still wrangling over revenue measures and a highway bill.

The people of Mississippi would like to see the legislature adopt some constructive road measure that would place Mississippi to the forefront in the matter of road building. The Whittington bill was killed in the house and it appears that the senate will bury the Stansell bill.

It is to be hoped that the two bodies can get together on this matter and on the revenue question and that the legislators can make some sort of showing to the "folks back home" for the per diem they have been drawing during the extraordinary session. A revenue measure must be enacted. To delay the passage of a road bill until 1930 would just delay Mississippi's progress for two years.

Gentlemen of the legislature, we urge you to make some concessions to each other on these important questions.

BUILD ROADS TO LAST.

In this remarkable era of good road building, much discussion of methods and materials to be employed in construction, has been heard. Various types of roads have their advocates and claims are made for the superiority of each.

As a matter of fact, so far as material is concerned, local conditions may be permitted to govern to a great extent, provided any one of the well-tested kinds that may be available is used. It would seem to be inadvisable to ship road materials great distances when an equally good product might be secured close at hand.

But regardless of the surfacing material to be used, the grading and foundations should be of a permanent nature.

Every interest of economy demands that before any great sum is spent on the improvement of a road the final surveys and establishment of grades should be made, so that fills may be allowed to settle and become compact before surfacing is done.

A firm foundation is highly desirable in any undertaking, and nowhere is this more strikingly true than in road building.

Well, the result of the election Tuesday indicates that we are safe for another four years at least from the Pope.

If Al Smith had been elected, we'd have seen some of these political preachers hitting for the tall timber in their nightshirts, running from the Pope.

We heard someone say the other day that if the Pope had wanted the United States, he could have bought it during the Harding regime.

Upshaw in Georgia, Heflin in Alabama and Crosby in Mississippi failed to turn their states body and breeches over to the Republican party.

The Nation-- A Precinct

PLUGGING their radio sets into electric outlets, millions of people Tuesday night learned the election returns throughout the country as quickly as they once were known in a single precinct.

In contrast to the days when candidates were notified of the outcome of a contest by "Pony Express," present day election returns become nation-wide property, when and as they happen.

Thanks to electrically operated voice amplifying devices, a candidate today talks to 70,000 people standing before him, all of whom hear him distinctly.

Thousands of miles away, millions of others hear him even before he is heard by those 100 yards from the platform. His voice carried by electricity, at 186,000 miles a second, goes 3,000 miles before his voice, carried by sound waves goes 100 yards.

Thus, through man's mastery and control of electric energy, is the unity of progress of the nation served.

And thus, as this mastery is applied in increasing measure in home and in factory, is the welfare of the individual and society as a whole advanced.

Column About Colored People of Grenada County Items by J. H. Phillips

Last Sunday at 4 p. m. the four representative churches of our community came together in a union service for the purpose of being entertained with a program entitled the "Harvest Festival", sponsored by Mrs. A. M. Rogers, assistant principal of the Grenada High School (col). Mrs. Rogers, with the girls of the 10th grade, entertained a full audience from start to finish. Bell Flower and New Hope Baptist churches and Powell Chapel and Vincent Chapel M. E. churches were represented on the program which furnished pep and interest to keep everybody pleased and wide awake. Mrs. Rogers, in a few well chosen remarks, presented the significance of the occasion by associating the material and spiritual harvest in the unique union. The class of girls acted as ushers and seated the audience as their guests according to solicitation. Each girl furnished each of their invited guests with an envelope in which the guest was to put a contribution, which each one did. The sum total was $38.85. A prize was awarded the girl whose guests gave the largest amount. Miss Flora McLain, having collected the largest amount from her guests, received the prize.

Prof. A. M. Rogers presented it to her. Everybody went away pleased with what they had seen and heard. Much praise was accorded Mrs. Rogers for her effort.

These gentlemen come to our town to be one of us and there will be no mistake in your calling upon them for service at any time you need such service. They are only asking an opportunity to show you through their establishment and to prove to you that they are prepared to serve you at the smallest cost. We bespeak for them your cooperation realizing that the time is at hand when negroes should unite to assist each other in business.

School News
A Parent Teachers' Association has been organized by the patrons and friends of the Grenada City School to assist the school in putting over its program. This P. T. A. is doing a great work. A program was rendered by it on Wednesday night, Oct. 24th, in which grownups played the part of children in an old fashioned concert. All who were present enjoyed this play and many have expressed wishes to have it repeated. The school moves on.

GOAL OF RED CROSS ANNUAL ROLL CALL 5,000,000 MEMBERS

Disaster Relief and Work for Veterans Cause Heavy Drain on Resources.

In order to enable the American Red Cross to carry on its broad activities, ranging from service to the world war veteran to instant response in time of disaster, a membership of 5,000,000 should be enrolled, and in this year of 1928-1929 that is the goal set for the twelfth annual roll call, to be held from November 11 to 29, Armistice to Thanksgiving Day.

John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross at Washington, is calling upon the nation for 5,000,000 adult members, directs attention to the great expenditures required of the Red Cross for disaster and veteran relief work, and for its many other activities devoted to health preservation and improvement and to cutting down the number of accidental deaths, through life saving and first aid courses.

"The Red Cross should at all times have a large reserve fund," Judge Payne stated, "because when disaster strikes, and this organization is called into instant action, there is no time to stop and raise funds. Dollars may mean lives, so we should have at all times a good reserve. We have been forced each year to draw upon our reserves, and we find that the demands are increasing annually."

Judge Payne pointed out that in the fiscal year of 1927-28, the Red Cross had extended aid in 66 major catastrophes in the United States and its insular possessions, and in 22 nations abroad. This does not include the West Indies hurricane disaster in Porto Rico and Florida, which occurred after the close of the Red Cross fiscal year, June 30, 1928.

The Red Cross expenditures for disaster in that period were $16,544,258.87, of which approximately $13,000,000 was expended in the Mississippi Valley for the flood relief work, which came from a fund contributed by the public. More than $1,000,000 was expended in the St. Louis tornado damage, and more than $1,000,000 in New England. In both cases public relief funds were raised, although in New England the Red Cross contributed in excess of $500,000 from its own funds for the relief work. In the majority of the other 66 disasters, and in all of the 22 foreign catastrophes in which the Red Cross extended aid, the money came from its own resources.

The largest item in the annual budget of the Red Cross is for its veteran relief and work for disabled ex-service and service men, upon which it expended in this year $1,169,795.

Every man and woman is asked by Judge Payne to join the Red Cross during the roll call period, to aid in these humanitarian enterprises.

Ten years after the Armistice, the American Red Cross still carries on for the world war veteran, providing comfort and entertainment for him in hospital, aiding his family where necessary, preparing and following through his claims for insurance, compensation or disability.

VETERAN RELIEF IS BIG RED CROSS TASK

Service to Disabled in Ten Years Since Armistice Has Cost $65,800,000.

In this year of the tenth anniversary of the Armistice, which ended the world war, the American Red Cross still finds a great army of disabled and sick veterans requiring assistance, and whose families also must be aided, according to a statement by James L. Fieser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations of the Red Cross at Washington. In the ten years since November 11, 1918, the Red Cross has expended approximately $65,800,000 in veteran relief work, Mr. Fieser said.

There is a daily average of 25,500 disabled and sick world war veterans enrolled in Veterans' Bureau and other government hospitals which care for these men and women, and about the same annual average of veterans succumbing to wounds and illness, for whose dependents the Red Cross is pledged to give required assistance. Mr. Fieser pointed out.

In addition, the Red Cross under its charter granted by Congress, has a definite duty towards service men of the regular establishment of Army, Navy and Marine Corps, and follows them to all foreign ports or duty. The expenditure in this work for the year ending June 30, 1928, was $307,458, the annual report states.

"Upon the Red Cross rests the sacred obligation of carrying on relief work for the disabled service and ex-service men and women and their dependents, taking up the work where the Government is not able to carry on," Mr. Fieser said. "The Red Cross has 349 trained workers, serving either full or part time in the field, in liaison work, camps and hospitals, who are always in personal contact with the sick and disabled in hospitals, with the men in the regular Army, Navy and Marine Corps, and who stand ever ready to serve veterans back in civil life, who need the help of a friendly agency to aid in establishing their rights and claims."

"To maintain this staff and to support the practical services they render, the Red Cross made expenditure of $1,169,795 for the year ending June 30, 1928. In addition 2,700 Red Cross Chapters, in that number of communities, who have established special work for the disabled service and ex-service people, expending during the past year $1,732,000."

The annual report states that the number of death claims alone of veterans which are handled through the War Service at national headquarters of the Red Cross, has increased from 12,010 in 1923-24 to 24,603 in 1927-28. During the year ending June 30, 1928, War Service assisted Chapters in adjusting Government claims amounting, in benefits to veterans or their dependents, to $693,203.42 in awards for compensation, insurance, adjusted compensation, burial expenses, etc. In addition to this amount, which represented lump sum payments, awards were obtained for $183,359 in monthly installments of insurance and compensation and in quarterly adjusted compensation payments.

Mr. Fieser points out that Red Cross Roll Call comes once each year, and that it is the only occasion upon which the Red Cross asks for funds with which to carry on its activities.

SARGON SAVED HIS LIFE, SAYS BURNHAM

Mississippi Man Related Most Remarkable Story of His Recovery to Well Known Drug-gist.

George M. Burnham, of Mendenhall, Miss., recently made the following statement to E. C. Harper, of the Service Drug Co., of that city.

"I am seventy years old, and had been in a poor state of health for six months. I had stomach and liver troubles, and for sometime was on a liquid diet. Even that wouldn't digest right. I was bilious, tongue was coated, breath disagreeable and I always had a bad taste.

"I was nervous and frequently had severe headaches and blind dizzy spells. I got so weak I couldn't work or do anything else worth while. My complexion was sallow and I lost weight until I was almost skin and bones.

"I have just finished my seventh bottle of Sargon and am now a well man and able to do my work. My weight is normal and has increased from one hundred and forty pounds to one hundred and sixty seven—a gain of twenty seven pounds.

"I have a fine appetite and eat anything I want. I never have indigestion and am no longer bilious. My tongue is clear and that disagreeable breath and bad taste have disappeared. My complexion has cleared up wonderfully. I no longer have blind, dizzy spells nor headaches and my nerves are in fine shape.

"I have been under treatment and have taken all kinds of medicines, but Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the only medicines that did me any good. I actually believe the Sargon treatment saved my life.

In witnessing the above statement with his signature, E. C. Harper of the Service Drug Co., of Mendenhall, wrote the following notation: "This man yielded to the Sargon treatment more readily than any person I have seen. He was about half dead when he began the treatment."

Sargon may be obtained in Grenada from the Corner Drug Store.

APPRECIATE HIGHWAY

To the Citizens of Grenada and Supervisor of Beat 1:

We take this method of expressing our appreciation and gratitude for the highway you have built for us from the county line to Mr. J. H. James' and we ask that this be called the Slate Springs Middle Road. We want also to express our gratitude to the boys who did the work. We have seen many highways built but this is one of the prettiest and most perfect roads we have ever seen and it would do credit to any set of road builders. Some of us were associated with the road crew for two weeks and we never saw a crew putting in better time or doing more high-class and efficient work. We are proud to recommend them in every way.

We want to especially congratulate Guy Marter on road building as he has built one of the prettiest links we have ever seen.

Respectfully,

Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., and Messrs. A. M. Carothers, S. S. Roane and S. H. Horton attended the meeting of laymen of the North Mississippi Presbytery held in Marks Thursday.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. P. B. Fitzwater, D.D.
Dean, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
(© 1928, Western Newspaper Union)

Lesson for November 11 PEACE AND GOOD WILL AMONG MEN

LESSON TEXT—Rom. 12:1, 2. 9-11. GOLDEN TEXT—Love worketh no ill to his neighbor, therefore love is the fulfillment of the law.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Treating Each Other Right.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Treating Each Other Right.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Promote Good Will.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Message and Program of World Peace.

I. The Christian's Relation to God (vv. 1, 2).
He is dedicated to God. He consciously presents his entire being to God.

1. The basis of this dedication (v. 1). "The mercies of God." The grand reason for the dedication of ourselves to God is because we are recipients of the mercies of God. The dynamic which makes possible our yielding to God is the gospel which is the power of God unto salvation. Our union with Christ makes us willing and able to give ourselves to God.

2. The nature of the dedication (v. 1).

(1) An act of the free will. Those who voluntarily present themselves to God. He consecrates to His service. 2. It embraces the whole man (v. 1). By "bodies" is meant the entire personality—spirit, soul, body (1 Thess. 5:23). (3) It is a living sacrifice (v. 1). In the Old Testament the victim was slain before being placed upon the altar, but in our case God wants our bodies as instruments of service.

(4) It is for rational service (v. 1). The logical outcome of our union with Christ is an intelligent service for Him.

3. The obligation of the one dedicated to the Lord (v. 2). It is nonconformity to this world. The one who has handed himself over to the Lord will not be fashioned by this evil age (1 John 5:19).

II. The Christian's Relation to His Fellow-Believer (vv. 9-13).

1. Love without hypocrisy (v. 9). We should not pretend to love people while hating them in our hearts. Feigned love is disguised hate.

2. Abhor the evil and cleave to the good (v. 9). God's children must be like Him. God hates wickedness of all sorts, so His children will have the same attitude toward sin that He has.

3. Be kindly affectionate one to another (v. 10). Real brotherly love is that which passes between those who are of one blood—members of the same family. In Christ we are really members one of the other.

4. In honor preferring one another (v. 10). This is most difficult. It is natural to claim the best places for ourselves. Christ pleased not Himself.

5. Not slothful in business (v. 11). This refers primarily to spiritual affairs—to the church life which is to be characterized by zeal, energy and warmth, being regarded as service to the Lord.

6. Rejoicing in hope (v. 12). Afflictions will surely come to the Christians, but in all trials he should be filled with hope of future glory.

7. Patient in tribulation (v. 12). This blessed hope will make possible a life of patience.

8. Continuing in prayer (v. 12). Only by constant and persistent prayer shall we be able to live above our circumstances and fix our hopes upon Him whose coming shall bring deliverance from all our trials and transform His glorious likeness.

9. Distributing to the necessity of our saints; given to hospitality (v. 13). It is obligatory on Christians to aid fellow Christians who are destitute. The Christian's home should be a place where teachers and fellow believers can find free entertainment.

III. The Christian's Relation to Unbelievers (vv. 14-21).

1. Do good to evil (v. 14). We are to bless those who persecute us.

2. Be sympathetic (v. 15). We should rejoice with those who rejoice and weep with those who weep. This was pre-eminently fulfilled in Christ while on earth, and in heaven now He enters into our joys and sorrows as our sympathetic High Priest.

3. Find points of agreement (v. 16). We should seek for points of agreement in all things.

4. Live honestly before all men (v. 17). Our manner of life should be that which will commend the grace of God in Christ.

5. Live in peace (v. 18). We should exhaust every means to bring about reconciliation. If the other party will not yield we should see to it that it is not our fault.

6. Be not vindictive (vv. 19-21). Instead of demanding eye for eye and tooth for tooth, we should heap coals of fire upon our enemies by deeds of kindness.

OLD LADIES' HOME ASKS FOR HOLIDAY DONATIONS

The Old Ladies' Home Association begs to remind its friends of long-standing, and the other good people of Mississippi, that according to yearly custom, a special plea is made at Thanksgiving for donations of provisions, supplies of all sorts for the old Ladies at the Home at Jackson.

There are 84 of these and they are looking forward to Thanksgiving and Christmas as the most glorious days of the year, for 'tis then they are so liberally remembered.

The management is earnestly hoping the contributions will equal or exceed those of former years. For all gifts accept heartfelt thanks.

As usual several of the railroads of the state will generously run free cars to carry these supplies to the orphanages and the Old Ladies' Home.

The station agents can supply the exact time of the arrival of the cars at stations during Thanksgiving week.

GIRL SCOUTS TROOP NO. 2

The Girl Scouts of troop No. 2 met Monday, November 5 in the high school basement. Since Miss Fay Gunn was absent Grace Kirk, the assistant lieutenant, presided. There were twenty-one girls present, several others having been excused.

Two weeks ago troop No. 2 went on an over-night hike to the camp at Glenwild where they had a very nice time.

On Monday the meeting was opened with the flag ceremony, after which patrol 3 gave a very interesting program about the founder of Girl Scouts.

The meeting was the one to which the girls brought contributions for the Juliette Home Fund. "Taps" was sung and the meeting adjourned.

Announcing The New Home Life Preferred at last-- LIFE INSURANCE at the QUANTITY RATE

Here's real saving for the business man who can qualify

YOU have often wondered why it was that you could not buy a life insurance policy like this. You've wondered why you had to pay the same rate for insurance as some fellow who was in a less favorable occupation; whose health habits were more precarious and who was not financially able to buy anything except a small policy. At last here's the policy you have always wanted. A new and unusual Preferred Life Insurance Policy has just been put on the market by the Home Life Insurance Company of New York. It represents the most advanced step in Life underwriting. Already it has aroused intense interest wherever it has been introduced. New York newspapers gave it columns of space the day it was announced. Shrewd business men are buying it in large volume. They recognize it as an unusual opportunity. It is a new Scientific Selection Plan that gives to those who can qualify maximum protection at greatly reduced rates.

If you can qualify, this might prove to be the most important investment of your entire life.

Can You Meet These Three Requirements

1. Are you in the right occupation?
2. Are you in the best of health?
3. Can you buy in sufficient volume—$5,000 or more?

If you think you can qualify, now is the time to act. We shall be glad to give you full particulars.

SORE Could Not Rest

Mrs. J. H. Nichols, who lives at 513 Elm Tree Lane, Lexington, Ky., says:

"Some few years ago, my health was bad. I had very severe pains in my sides. My nerves were in a terrible condition. I could not rest.

"The lower part of my body was very sore. I did not feel like eating, and did not sleep well at all at nights.

"A friend of mine recommended Cardui. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. I kept it up until I felt strong and well."

About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found herself in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardui again," she adds, "and it helped me wonderfully. It is a splendid tonic."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients.

NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

THESE THREE PRE-EMINENT PIANOS ARE TO BE FOUND IN ONE ESTABLISHMENT

where the people of this city may hear and compare them

MASON & HAMLIN

KNABE • • • CHICKERING

—together with the supreme reproducing instrument of all time

THE AMPICO

NEVER before has one establishment in this part of the world been able to bring such an assemblage of noted instruments or such a far-reaching service in the field of music. Think! Three pianos that stand in the foremost rank, judged by every standard of fame, tradition, and intrinsic musical worth! The Mason & Hamlin, the world's most costly piano, and the one which informed opinion—the inner circle of the musical elect—selects as the finest. The Knabe, chosen as the official piano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, after every make of piano had been considered from the standpoint of humanly sympathetic tone. The Chickering, which in its 105 years of history has built up a more romantic background—a richer musical tradition—than any other piano.

Your greatest opportunity to make comparisons

The purchase of a piano is perhaps the most important that you will ever make for your home. In making a selection, you compare, and weigh, and evaluate, until that thrilling moment when one piano means more to you than all the rest. Then you buy! Naturally, your inspection would always have included the Mason & Hamlin, the Knabe, and the Chickering. But until now you would have had to go from store to store to see and hear them.

And what is more, you would have been assailed by conflicting sales stories—the biased arguments of salesmen doing their utmost to sell you one make of piano, because they had only one to sell. Now, in this establishment, you will be free from this competitive spirit—free to listen at your leisure to comparative tones, to examine comparative styles and sizes, to consider the values offered at comparative costs.

Noted lower-priced pianos, too!

In the field of lower-priced pianos we are able to offer an equally imposing group from which to select: The J. & C. Fischer, the Marshall & Wendell, the Haines Brothers—each in its price class as fine as money can buy! We have more designs to choose from—more period models as well as standard designs—and the period model is of increasing importance in making the piano a completely harmonious part of your decorative scheme.

And the brilliant Ampico!

When reproducing instruments are considered, one stands so unmistakably and unassailably above the others that there is no room for doubt or question: the Ampico. We have the Ampico—the marvelous instrument of recreation which veritably is the artist! Now for the first time, you can hear the Ampico in the Mason & Hamlin, in the Knabe, and in the Chickering, side by side.

Here we have all the new Ampico recordings—we have all Ampico recordings at all times. From now on this is the only place where either the Ampico or Ampico recordings will be available.

Easier to buy than ever before

Now, to come to the subject of paying for a piano. It is our aim and ambition to make it possible for every home to have a piano, easily. A small deposit will assure the delivery of any make or model you select and your present piano will be taken as part payment. The balance may be paid over a period of years.

If you buy one of our lower-priced pianos, and within one year decide that you want to invest in a Mason & Hamlin, a Knabe, or a Chickering, the money you have paid in, dollar for dollar, will be applied to the purchase of the new instrument.

Here, for the first time, is a grouping of instruments, supplemented by a policy of service, which will mean much to this community's growth in music. And here, too, present owners of Mason & Hamlin, Knabe and Chickering pianos, and the Ampico, will find us eager to serve them—to send them our expert tuners—to give their every request prompt and courteous consideration. A cordial invitation to visit our show-rooms is extended to all. See this greatest display.

HOME LIFE HERE OFFERS UNIQUE INSURANCE PLAN

A new and unique Preferred Life Insurance Policy is announced by the Home Life Insurance Company, of New York. It gives to those who can qualify with favorable occupation, good health and buying power, life insurance at a low guaranteed rate per thousand. The Preferred Whole Life Policy is selective. Not everyone can qualify for it. First, one must be in a better than average occupation to be considered in this preferred class. The second qualification rests upon health conditions—only those in a better than average physical condition, which is backed by good personal history, habits and surroundings, are eligible. The third qualification is based upon the distinct relationship between the amount of insurance a man purchases and his economic status. It is also a demonstrated fact that the death rate varies with the economic status. The Preferred Whole Life is not issued in amounts less than $5,000.

The Home Life Insurance Company is one of the oldest in the United States, having been organized in 1860. It is purely mutual and is owned entirely by its policyholders. It has always been recognized as a well managed company of great financial strength, giving a security to its policyholders which is the fundamental factor in life insurance protection. The Home Life is represented in Grenada by J. P. Broadstreet, Jr.

Red Cross Membership Is Sound Investment, Business Leader Says

"We believe that individual membership in the American Red Cross is a sound investment yielding the investor tremendous returns in personal satisfaction," is the statement of William Butterworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in endorsing the twelfth annual roll call of the American Red Cross, Nov. 11-29. Mr. Butterworth's statement follows:

"The men engaged in carrying forward the business and industry of this nation are quick to respond, and respond generously, when human suffering calls for their assistance. They welcome the existence of an organization authorized by international treaty and congressional charter to act as their agency, and the agency of all the people, in providing relief in disaster and promoting their beneficial services to humanity. The nation's business men take particular pleasure in supporting The American National Red Cross because it has applied sound and efficient business technique and administrative methods without sacrifice of sympathy and understanding in the prevention and mitigation of human suffering.

"The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, as representative of the nation's business, has such confidence in the American Red Cross that it calls upon its member organizations to contribute to relief in disaster only upon Red Cross assurance that an appeal is necessary.

"We believe that individual membership in the American Red Cross is a sound investment, yielding the investor tremendous returns in personal satisfaction. The Red Cross is seeking to increase its membership to five million; the opportunity to join its ranks is presented by the Red Cross Chapters throughout the nation from November 11 to 29. It is good to be a link in this great chain of service reaching around the world." (Signed) WILLIAM BUTTERWORTH, President, The Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

RED CROSS NURSES AID IN HURRICANE DISASTER

In addition to their year around work in the Public Health field, the Public Health nurses of the American Red Cross have answered a number of calls to combat epidemics, and in disaster work during the year just ending, the Red Cross states.

Their greatest task was in the relief following the West Indies hurricane when 20 nurses were despatched to Florida and 32 to Porto Rico, to assume charge of the health work there. Epidemic conditions were especially grave in both places, and inoculation of several hundred thousand persons had to be arranged in order to prevent spread of contagions. Nursing the injured, the sick, aged and young and caring for the newborn were heavy tasks in both areas.

The Red Cross nurses also were called upon for work in epidemics in communities, including the serious septic sore throat epidemic in New England and a typhoid epidemic in New York state.

More than 530 Red Cross Chapters throughout the nation operate nursing services which they support altogether or in part.

WORK OF VOLUNTEERS RED CROSS BACKBONE

Men and Women Who Give Services Aid Greatly—Surgical Dressings, Knitting, Sewing Still Carried On.

Thousands of women, who were first enrolled as Red Cross workers during the period of the World War, have never ceased in their labors for that organization, but still carry on knitting garments for disabled soldiers, making dresses and layettes for children and infants, and giving hours of their time in the various volunteer activities of Red Cross work. Volunteer work by men also plays a large part in the organization of Red Cross.

This volunteer work is the backbone of Red Cross. Fully eighty-five per cent of the service this humanitarian organization is able to render the public, through public health, American Junior Red Cross, service to disabled veterans of the World War, and the service men of the regular establishment, and its many other activities, must fall upon the shoulder of the volunteer worker. Not only is this true of the national headquarters where such distinguished volunteers are enrolled as Judge John Barton Payne, chairman, and Miss Mabel Boardman, secretary of the Red Cross, and Col. E. P. Bicknell, vice chairman in charge of foreign operation, but also in every community where Chapter chairmen and other men and women devote hours of their time to fostering and planning the valuable and humane work of Red Cross, so that it may be ever ready to serve in time of distress, catastrophe or great national emergency.

In the year just ended, 253,000 garments were provided by Red Cross Chapters, including 1,399 layettes, with nineteen articles each, for use in disaster areas.

Women who rolled surgical dressings ten years ago, with the help of new volunteers, still carry on this work for hospitals in their communities, and for the Chapter's stock, where a supply must be maintained to answer emergency calls. In the year just ended, the women made 2,276,000 dressings.

No type of volunteer work is more interesting or meets greater appreciation from its beneficiaries than the distribution each December of Christmas bags—one of which goes to every service man in the Army and Navy stationed on a distant post. Each year the request comes for more bags, until for Christmas, 1928, Red Cross volunteers have been asked to provide 42,000. The bags, containing small necessities dear to a service man's heart, go to the Philippines, China, Guam, Nicaragua and all the distant ports where Uncle Sam's men are stationed.

Another service these volunteers perform, which has generally gripped the imagination of all who have come in touch with it, is the transcription into Braille for the blind first came to the attention of Red Cross through the blinded veterans of the World War. From work begun for the war blind, with a few devoted workers, this transcription of books now is being carried on by 1,029 Braille transcribers, who during this year have hand-copied 150,705 pages, and 345 titles have been completed.

RED CROSS FIGHTS DEATH AND DISEASE

Four Nation-wide Services Promote Health Preservation and Accident Prevention.

A nation-wide program for preservation of health and prevention of accidental death is one of the great services of the American Red Cross. Four bureaus, manned by experts, direct this work. They are the Public Health Nursing Service; the First Aid and Life Saving Service; the Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick Service, and the Nutrition Service.

These services aim at preservation of health through skilled nursing care; prevention of loss of life in accidents; prevention of illness, through cleanliness in the home and knowledge of methods of care of the sick; and raising the standard of physical efficiency through proper eating.

This nation-wide campaign against disease and accidental death is conducted through a majority of the 3,532 Chapters of the Red Cross. It is a community campaign, fitted to the health problems of each section.

The Red Cross, through its Chapters, is the largest employer of trained Public Health nurses in rural work in the United States. In its campaign for preservation of health and prevention of disease it has aided in establishing 2,000 or more community nursing services.

At the national headquarters an enrollment of nurses is maintained, which forms a great nursing reserve. Under its Charter from Congress this Red Cross Nursing Service is the official reserve for the United States Army and Navy Nurse Corps. In addition, these nurses are available in time of disaster or epidemic. This reserve list of trained nurses has in 1928 reached its peak in number enrolled—there being now 47,000 nurses qualified under Red Cross regulations who may be mobilized in time of emergency.

The comprehensive, nation-wide program of instruction in First Aid and Life Saving maintained by the Red Cross is in answer to the appalling total of accidental deaths each year in the United States.

In its First Aid instruction among firemen and police forces, in factories, railroad centers, great industries, and public utilities, the Red Cross annually reaches more than 160,000 men and women, whom it teaches to be alert, ready in case of accident, to apply first aid treatment.

The campaign against accidental deaths through drowning has been carried throughout the country, and there now are 173,506 men and women, boys and girls, qualified as Red Cross life savers, expert in resuscitation, etc.

Labor Head Asks Nation's Workers to Support Red Cross

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in Washington, calls upon the workers of the nation to support the twelfth annual roll call of the American Red Cross, November 11-29, in the following statement:

"Through the American Red Cross we find expression for some of our noblest ideals. It is an effective instrument for magnifying many times our personal service to humanity.

"In the face of great disasters, when the injured and homeless run into the thousands, there is little we can do individually. Consolidating our strength through membership in this great organization, our opportunity for service is unlimited.

We must not forget that every day is a day of disaster to thousands. Into homes where disaster strikes your Red Cross goes in your name to be friend and counselor to those upon whom misfortune has laid her heavy hand.

"As President of the American Federation of Labor, I hope and feel confident that the workers of the nation will respond to the Red Cross Roll Call and have a part in this organization's great work." (Signed)

WILLIAM GREEN,
President
American Federation of Labor.

UPSET

With Stomach Spells

"I have taken Black-Draught ever since I was a child, and can recommend it as a splendid medicine for family use," says Mrs. Cora Maberry, of Sagesyah, Okla. "My mother used it, in bringing up her family, and after I had a home of my own, I continued to use it, as I thought it was good to give the children. "My children did not mind taking Black-Draught, and so when they got upset with stomach spells, or were constipated, I gave them Black-Draught tea."

"They are all grown now and have homes of their own, but I still keep Black-Draught in the house and use it myself when I wake up in the morning feeling dull and 'head-achey', and have a bad taste in my mouth." In use over 87 years.

TAX BOOKS NOW OPEN

To the Taxpayers of Grenada County:-

The Board of Supervisors has fixed the levy for taxes for the fiscal year 1928-1929 and this is to advise you that the sheriff's office is ready to proceed with the collection of taxes.

It is always advisable to pay your taxes as early as possible and a great portion of Grenada County taxpayers have always done so. This serves to eliminate congestion in the sheriff's office during the last few days of tax paying time and prevents the possibility of your not being waited on within the time limit prescribed by law.

The statutes provide for the assessment of 10 per cent damages on all taxes unpaid before the first of February. The commutation road tax is delinquent after Dec. 15th and the law requires that the names of all delinquents on this tax be turned over to the justices of the peace for collection which, of course, means the adding of damages. By paying your taxes now you will avoid all these unpleasant features and will confer a great favor on this office.

Respectfully, FRED S. NASON, Sheriff

PASTOR BEGINS TALKS ON HOLY LAND TOUR

on the globe has within so small a compass so great a variety of scenery, climate, and products. God truly provided a universal land as the home of a universal religion. Syria is a country about the size of the state of Georgia, with about 3,000,000 inhabitants. Egypt is a country of about 350,000 square miles (including the Libyan Desert). However the cultivated areas along the Nile valley cover about 12,300 square miles. Egypt has a population of about 14,000,000.

After breakfast and this brief review of notes, I went aboard a tender alongside the Baltic, and we were towed about one-half mile to land. I think all the inhabitants of this town of Haifa were on the beach to see us. And we were besieged with offers of guides and interpreters. Very soon Dr. J. Gray McAllister professor of Bible for 18 years, Dr. Herbery K. England of Roselle, N. J. one time professor at Princeton, and Dr. Jno. R. MacKay a minister of New York City, and I formed a party for seeing these countries by auto. We picked an intelligent looking, nicely dressed Syrian and found that he could speak several languages, was a college graduate, and had a Buick automobile. We traded with this man for his services by the day. Our party was the first one off. We drove through Haifa on to the top of old Mt. Carmel, where we obtained some beautiful views of the surrounding country. We visited the Carmelite monastery, which is built over the traditional cave of Elijah. We spent only a few moments here, and descended the mountain, drove in to Haifa again, stopping for a few moments in front of a hotel. We wanted to see the oriental hotel in order to know what to expect. When we came back to our car, it was surrounded with a great crowd of people, curious to get a look at us. We had to drive along and push them out of our way to get started. Very soon we left Haifa, and started up the coast. No sooner had we started than we had to ford a little brook. This brook is historic old Brook Kishon, which, we read in Kings, once ran red with the blood of the prophets of Baal. For several miles we used the beach as a road, and occasionally the waves would sweep under our car as we sped along. Finally we turned inland and traveled for a short time over land which looked like desert land with sand dunes here and there. Suddenly we looked ahead to a beautiful rolling country, green with grass, and thickly strewn with flowers. The outstanding colors being red and yellow. The closer you look the more flowers you see. Palestine is said to have 2000 varieties of flowers. Mrs. Jno. Whiting, wife of the man who was at the head of the American Colony in Jerusalem, told us that she sat in one place on the grass in this section and picked twenty-seven different kinds of flowers without getting up. After riding through this natural flower garden, we started climbing the lower mountains. Finally we lost sight of the sea altogether and traveled over these bare rocky hills, when suddenly we rounded a corner and straight between us two or three hundred feet the waves of the Mediterranean were beating against the rocks. After descending these hills, we entered a plain, and again traveled parallel with the sea-coast. And through this plain which is fertile, we saw much farming and many orchards. We saw almost every tree mentioned in the Bible, the fig, orange, olive, locust, palm and others. We passed beautiful orange and lemon orchards, loaded with fruit. We saw men plowing with the one-handed ploughs, some of them drawn by oxen, some by camels, some by donkeys, and two we saw being drawn by human beings. We passed camel trains from Egypt going to Syria and other points. Just before we came in sight of the city of Tyre we met

Tyre is the youngest city of Phoenicia, dating back only about four thousand years. Here lived Hiram, king of Tyre, who was a warm personal friend of David and Solomon. Nebuchadnezzar five centuries later besieged Tyre for thirteen years. Alexander the Great also besieged it. Here our Saviour came at least one time, and met the Phoenician woman. Here Paul stopped after his third Missionary journey. We did not get to enter Tyre as sand had blown over the road so deep that we got stuck and had to back out and continue our journey north. Continuing over a barren country we finally entered Sidon.

The oldest city of Phoenicia. Moses gave it a place in the table of Nations in Genesis 10th Chapter. Homer sang of the skill of its artisans. Sidon today is a city of about 10,000 inhabitants. We drove up to a 'French Cafe' for lunch. The only languages we could speak were English and slang, therefore we had to leave it to our guide and interpreter to order for us. We made our lunch of goat and sheep meat, Turkish coffee, and goat milk for the coffee. The bread they gave us had to be broken by muscle power. And I never before knew how to appreciate good American coffee until I "ate" this Turkish coffee.

It seems they fill a cup with ground coffee and then force water into the cup, so that you have to eat it, literally. After our oriental lunch, we walked about the city and through the bazaars, all of which are similar, and which I will describe when we reach Damascus next week. We soon had enough of Sidon, and proceeded on our journey. One cannot help but recall Kipling's lines "Lo, all our pomp of yesterday Is one with Nineveh and Tyre."

The glory of Tyre and Sidon is indeed gone. Phoenician ships no longer dominate the Mediterranean as in the days of Solomon. Late in the afternoon we rode through the largest olive orchard in the world just outside Beirut Syria, where we bought ripe olives for ten cents

Everybody take notice my land is posted against hunting and all trespassing.

CONSTANT EXPANSION

—to serve Chevrolet owners better

SINCE January 1st more than a million new Chevrolets have been delivered to owners—making the Chevrolet Motor Company, for the second consecutive year, the world's largest builder of automobiles!

This outstanding achievement has been attained not only because of the quality and value of Chevrolet cars—but also because there has been a constant expansion of Chevrolet service facilities.

In order to bring these mammoth facilities of the Chevrolet factories to Chevrolet dealers and owners everywhere, there have been erected 26 huge parts warehouses in the principal centers of distribution. This expansion program is continually going on—for four great additional warehouses will be in operation by January first and seven more by the summer of 1929.

Into the service departments of all Chevrolet dealers, Chevrolet has brought special tools and shop equipment—designed under the supervision of Chevrolet engineers. This equipment definitely assures maximum speed and precision and the lowest possible cost in the performance of every Chevrolet service and repair operation—which are charged for on a flat rate basis.

Furthermore, all of these tremendous facilities have been made available to 15,000 authorized service stations manned by skilled mechanics, over 25,000 of whom have been factory trained to efficiently handle every repair operation on a Chevrolet car. In addition, there are over 4,000 other points where genuine Chevrolet parts may be obtained.

Uniformly efficient, uniformly reliable and within easy reach of everybody everywhere—this great service organization is maintaining at peak efficiency the fine performance for which Chevrolet cars have always been renowned.

We cordially invite you to come in and see how our service facilities reflect the influence of this great national service program.
